Dr. Kenneth Schwab
President

Dr. Kenneth L. Schwab, an award winning educator with a keen interest in leadership and strategic planning, was named Centenary College's 34th President in 1991.

His efforts to maintain Centenary's reputation as one of the premiere liberal arts colleges in the nation has resulted in enhanced student life and increased academic quality during his tenure.

Dr. Schwab came to Centenary from the University of South Carolina where he was Executive Vice President for Administration (1988) after serving as Executive Assistant to the President for Institutional planning (1986-88).

From 1970-1986, Dr. Schwab held administrative positions at Guilford College in Greensboro, NC. He was the Assistant Dean of Students and Director of Residential Operations (1970-74), Dean of Students (1974-80) and Assistant to the President for Institutional Planning and Community Relations (1980-86).

Dr. Schwab holds the doctor of education degree (1978) from Indiana University, master of education degree (1972) from the University of North Carolina-Greensboro and the bachelor of science degree (1969) from Purdue University, where he graduated with honors as the Outstanding Senior. He has also done post-graduate studies at both Johns Hopkins University and Harvard.

Dr. Schwab and his wife, Patricia Neergaard Schwab, who also has a doctorate in education, are the parents of three sons: Kempton, Carlton, and Christopher.

Dr. Schwab's involvement and relationship with Centenary students is one of the Centenary College community's greatest assets

Russ Sharp
Director of Athletics

In his fifth year as Director of Athletics, Russ Sharp has made quite an impact on Centenary's athletic department.

Since coming from Arkansas State, where he served as Assistant Athletic Director for four years, Sharp has created a sports medicine facility, advertising partnerships and has developed a master plan for facility improvement.

Two phases of his facility improvements plan have already been completed. The first phase of the plan was the construction of a new softball field which was completed in spring, 1996. Lights were erected this spring at the softball field as well. Fall, 1996, his hard work brought about the expansion of the soccer field and the installation of a state of the art scoreboard which completed phase two of the plan.

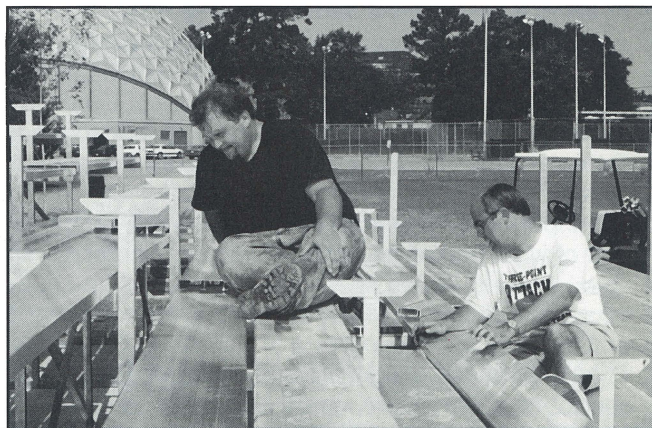

Other phases of the facility improvements plan included the addition of permanent seating at each venue.

Sharp has also worked on fund raising campaigns and has created a marketing plan to lead the Centenary Athletic Department into the 21st century. He has served as the chair of the Trans America Athletic Conference Nomination and Finance Committee and is currently participating on this fourth NCAA Certification and Peer Review Team as well as his first NCAA Rifle Committee.

Prior to Arkansas State, Sharp spent 13 years at West Georgia College. Among his roles at West Georgia were Assistant Athletic Director for Business Affairs and Executive Director of the Braves Club.

A 1983 graduate of West Georgia, Sharp and his wife, Teri, are the proud parents of 18-month old son, Matthew Glenn.

Sharp's commitment to facility improvement goes beyond the office and onto the field, assisting in the installation of stands at the Centenary Soccer Complex.

The College

A Rich Tradition

Since its founding in 1825, Centenary College has cherished its heritage as a small, progressive liberal arts college. Its formula of close interaction between students and faculty, innovative academic programs and a dynamic community prepares its students for the 21st century.

Centenary takes pride in its outstanding reputation in higher education. Its average acceptance rate for medical and dental school is 80 percent (as compared with the national average of 30 percent), and 90 percent of its graduates are accepted to law school. Additionally, 98 percent of its graduates are employed within one month of graduation. Centenary's excellent academic program, its mixture of activities and social events, and the quality of those who make up the campus community combine to create an exceptional life experience for its students.

A Location for Learning

Centenary College's campus is located a few miles from downtown Shreveport, Louisiana, which offers its students an incredible array of opportunities for learning and entertainment. The natural beauty of its landscape and Georgian style architecture help to create the perfect atmosphere in which to live, learn and have fun. However, the unparalleled splendor of the Centenary campus is only part of what makes its location unique. Centenary students enjoy the arts, music, theatrical events, and national entertainment headliners. They are able to intern at one of several regional medical centers or a Fortune 500 company. They experience a night life that includes art festivals, concert tours, a symphony, opera and ballet company. They enjoy delicious Cajun cuisine from any number of fine restaurants, or explore the riverfront area with its parks, boating and scenery.

Academics: Dynamic and Diverse

At Centenary, small class sizes allow instructors to mentor their students-to know them as individuals. The unique mix of personalized instruction (53 percent of courses have 10 students or less), superior facilities and equipment, and teachers who are scholars in their field combine to create a first-rate academic program. However, a small student body does not translate into fewer opportunities. Whether a student has a specific career path in mind or they are still exploring their options, Centenary has a number of diverse program offerings.

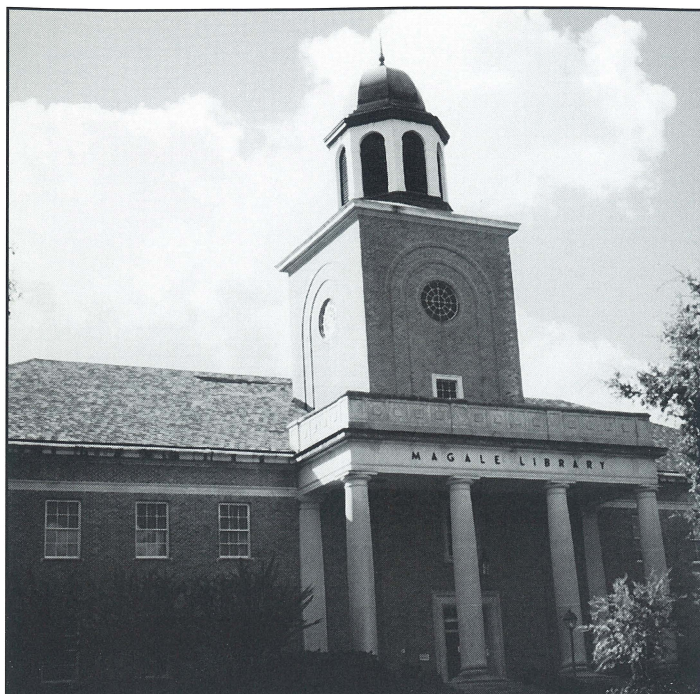

Faculty: Partners in Learning

Centenary professors groom their students to compete with the best, whether that means guiding them through original research projects, helping them to design a professional career plan, or calling contacts to connect them with jobs and graduate schools. Centenary's faculty aid students in the navigation of the path of academic and personal growth. They encourage, advise, and challenge while helping students fulfill their academic potential. In their classrooms, learning is anything but passive. It is not uncommon for faculty members to host dinners and other special events for students at their homes or to enjoy meals with students in the campus dining hall. There is a sense of family and community that exists at Centenary. Faculty are revered as mentors and trusted as friends.

As professionals, Centenary faculty are scholars in their fields, having received degrees from such prestigious institutions as Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth, Duke, Vanderbilt, Columbia, Johns Hopkins, Virginia and Emory. Over 92 percent hold the highest degree in their respective fields. They are a diverse group of individuals with one thing in common: they love to teach.

Facilities and Research

World-class theater and music facilities, a film and video production studio, over 300 personal computer stations, and a nationally accredited art museum are some of the facilities to which students have daily access.

In the past six years, Centenary has produced three Goldwater Scholarship recipients, the premier undergraduate award in the field of science, mathematics, and engineering. Centenary boasts about its award-winning publication, Le Tintamarre, the only French language newspaper in the country completely created by students. In 1996, Centenary received a prestigious Howard Hughes grant which will enable Centenary to develop new cooperative learning programs to enhance the study of science. The biophysics department recently received a grant to develop a novel way to pinpoint oxygen deficiency inside the body which will help treat strokes and other circulatory diseases. Whatever a student's goal is, Centenary's first-rate facilities will help him or her reach it.

Creative Experiences

At the heart of a liberal arts curriculum is the concept of openness to new ideas. Centenary embraces this philosophy and prides itself in its careful consideration and implementation of new programs. While never abandoning its basic precepts, Centenary remains on the cutting edge of curriculum enhancements. All students participate in the Centenary Plan -- a three-pronged strategy to ensure their complete preparation for life beyond graduation.

"Career Exploration" enables students to participate in a systematic and planned inquiry into career opportunities through self-assessment, awareness and developing a personal profile of accomplishments. Through the "Intercultural Experience", students gain the global perspective necessary for them to be successful in today's multicultural world by living in a culture within the U.S. or abroad. Participating in "Community Service" allows a student to better understand citizenship in our society by contributing to it. As Centenary helps students acquire and develop new skills, students begin to share them by helping others in the community.

In addition to the Centenary Plan experience, all students participate in one "May Module." The "module" as students refer to it, is a one-month intensive study of a particular field of interest to them. This is a great opportunity for students to do more in-depth discovery in a topic related to their major or to select a program that is outside of their academic field. Students can choose from a variety of options such as hiking the Grand Canyon, exploring Costa Rica, volunteering at the Special Olympics or working within the Shreveport community.

Student Life

Centenary students reach their potential by participating in both academic and social events. The campus community is incredibly active and multi-faceted with an array of activities from which to choose. Students have an opportunity to make a real difference in the quality of life at Centenary through participation in clubs, organizations and activities. Many of its students are active in the student government and student media. Others participate in its Greek system, while still others get involved in groups focused on environmental, political and social change. The campus plays host to distinguished speakers, musical ensembles and choirs, comedians, theater productions, concerts, and more. Whether they choose to continue playing their favorite sport or instrument or seek challenges in areas yet uncharted, Centenary has an activity and program to meet everyone's interest.

Academic Support

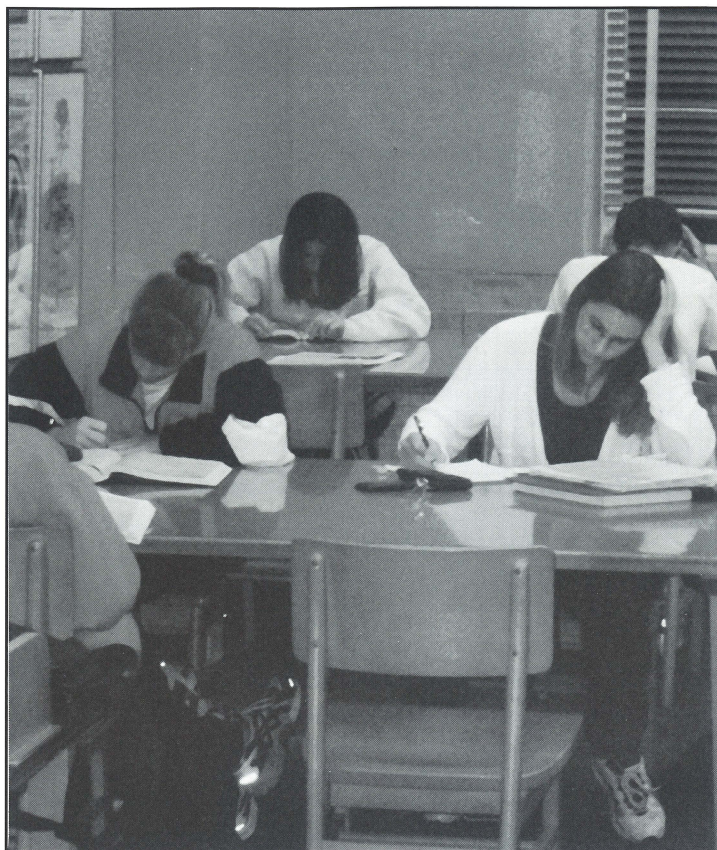

Academic Support

Centenary College is committed to promoting both academic and athletic achievement. In order to achieve this commitment, the Academic Support Office (ASO) was created to assist student-athletes through a variety of programs addressing the academic needs of this unique population. The primary goal of the Academic Support Office is to help student-athletes progress toward intellectual development and graduation. The office is also working to help every program achieve two five-year goals:

- Raising the student-athlete G.P.A. at a rate of .1 per year.
- Raising the graduation rate for student-athletes 1 percent per year from its current mark of 54 percent.

Academic success has become a standard to the Gents and Ladies. Despite long road trips and limited class schedules, the student-athletes at Centenary have achieved academic honors including the Trans America Athletic Conference All-Academic Trophy two of the last five years. Nearly two-thirds of Centenary student-athletes have a G.P.A. at or above 3.0. Centenary men's basketball posted a 3.01 cumulative team grade point average for spring 1998. Herbert Lang and Reggie Love, both seniors on last year's team, will graduate on time in December. In addition, they had the highest number of players of any Centenary athletic team earn all-academic team honors in 1996-97. Similarly, the Ladies softball team has been ranked in the top 10 in the nation by the National Fastpitch Coaches Association for the last two years. They placed fourth in 1997 with a 3.278 overall cumulative GPA and ninth in 1998 with a 3.2428.

The Academic Support Staff works closely with coaches and faculty to help student-athletes better balance the demands of both academics and athletics. In addition to monitoring the academic progress of the 230 student-athletes, the staff makes referrals for tutorial assistance when students need additional support outside the classroom. The ASO also operates drop-in English/Writing tutoring sessions to assist students in all disciplines.

Student-athletes are required to complete a certain amount of study table hours each week throughout the course of the academic year.

Recently, the athletic department has implemented the NCAA CHAMPS/Life Skills Program to strengthen the efforts of the ASO. This program focuses on the following areas:

- Academic Excellence
- Personal Development
- Career Development
- Community Service

Students attend seminars dealing with everything from study skills and time management to sports nutrition and alcohol awareness. The CHAMPS/Life Skills Program enhances personal growth by helping the student-athlete to acquire increasing levels of independence and responsibility. Therefore, student-athletes at Centenary are prepared to face today's biggest challenge of life after graduation.

Sports Medicine/Women's Basketball

Continued improvements to the athletic medicine facility include an upgraded computer system with injury tracking software, the addition of two stationary bicycles and an increased storage capacity for the daily supplies used in treatments of student-athletes.

Sports Medicine

The Centenary College sports medicine facility is located on the bottom floor of the Gold Dome and continued improvements have resulted in an enhanced facility.

The improvements include an upgraded computer system with injury tracking software, the addition of two stationary bicycles and an increased storage capacity for the daily supplies used in treatments of student-athletes.

Alan Edwards begins his fifth year as head athletic trainer for the Centenary Athletic Program. Edwards, 30, is a 1991 graduate of McNeese State University with a bachelor of science in Health and Physical Education. He earned his master's degree in Exercise Science at Northeast Louisiana University in 1993. Edwards services, and those of his assistants Patrick Ohaver and Michelle Haynie, are provided through a partnership between Centenary and Highland Hospital.

Edwards also supervises student and volunteer assistants as they gain valuable experience in their pursuit of becoming Certified Athletic Trainers. Student and volunteer assistants obtain practical experience at home and on the road working with the Gents' and Ladies' athletic teams.

The training room is equipped with modalities to assist athletic trainers in the treatment of injuries of Centenary athletes. The room also contains training tables, ice machine, and whirlpool.

Centenary and Highland's athletic training staff are also utilized during the Southland Conference men's and women's basketball tournament as well as athletic summer camps hosted by Centenary.

Women's Basketball

In 1980, Centenary began playing collegiate women's basketball after having competed as a club sport in 1979. The first Ladies' team competed on the Division III level, playing its first game November 28 against College of the Ozarks. The Ladies lost that game 80-59, and were unable to win a game the remainder of the season, finishing 0-17. Sherion Hollingsworth coached a team led by Jamie Odom's 8.8 ppg.

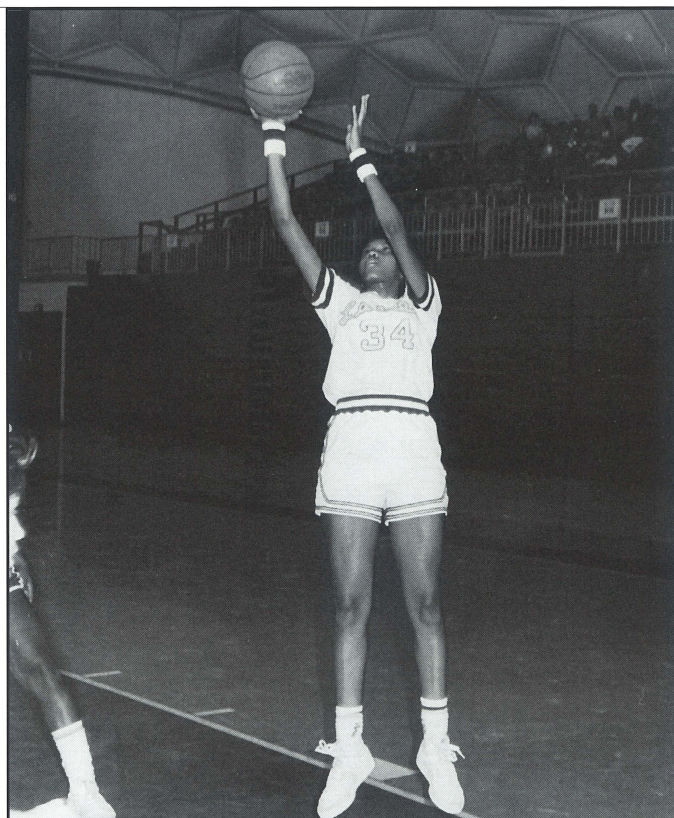

The following year, Joe St. Andre took over the helm and led the Ladies to an impressive 21-10 record in the program's first year playing at the Division I level. Zebber Satcher led the Ladies in points and averaged a double-double with 16.1 ppg and 10.5 rpg. In just their second year, the Ladies finished second in the AIAW Tournament.

In the 1982-83 season, the Ladies struggled, finishing 10-16 and 10th in the AIAW Tournament.

The 1983-84 season was the last season for the Ladies, who finished 8-21. The program was dropped due to budgetary concerns, competitiveness, and a lack of support.

Fifteen years later, Centenary has reintroduced women's hoops, naming John Raff as head coach. The program is scheduled to begin competing next year.

"We're going to be competitive. We like the players we have so far and who have committed," says Raff. "We're going to be a good shooting team and do a lot of different things on defense. We'll play hard which will make us competitive with most opponents on our schedule, if not all."

Zebber Satcher led the Ladies in scoring in 1982-83, and finished her Centenary career with 15.4 points per game and 9.8 rebounds per game.

The Gold Dome

"HOME OF THE GENTS"

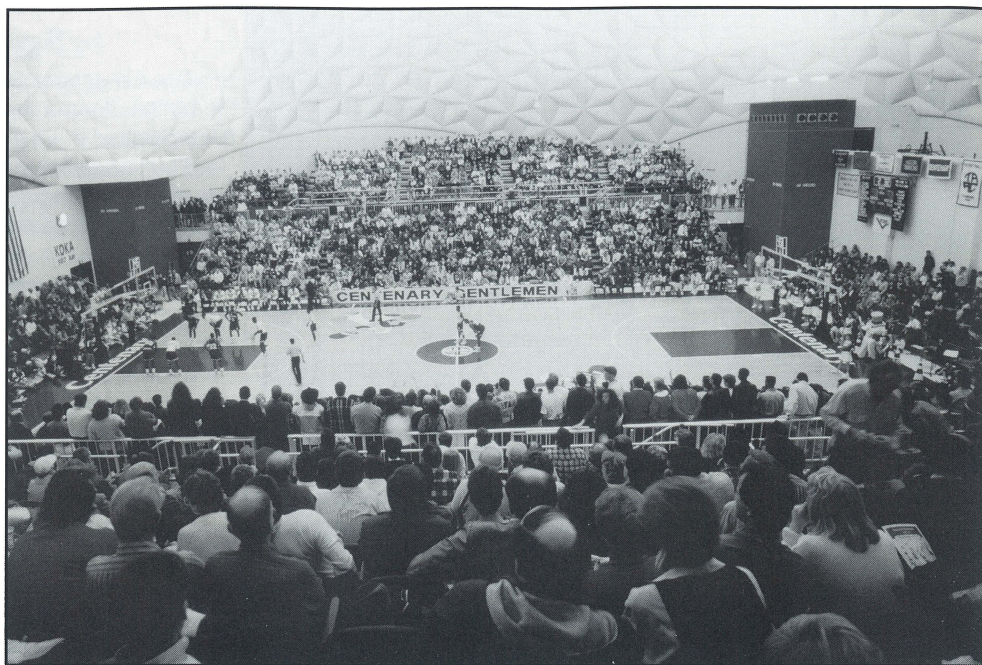

The geodesic Gold Dome, constructed in 1970, is a landmark located just south of the main Centenary College campus. Besides housing the Centenary basketball team, the Gold Dome is also the home of the Centenary Ladies volleyball team.

The multi-purpose facility, constructed at a cost of 1.3 million plus equipment, has a seating capacity of 3,000 with cushioned armchairs on the upper level and bleachers on both sides of the floor.

Unique features of the structure include indirect lighting and the attractive gold anodized aluminum dome. The completely air-conditioned facility also contains office space for the athletic and physical education departments, two classrooms, and seven large carpeted dressing rooms.

Like the building itself, the floor area is multi-purpose. A portable hardwood floor was inserted in 1989 for basketball. With a Tartan-based surface underneath, the floor area can easily be converted into two crosscourt basketball courts, eight volleyball courts, or 16 badminton courts.

The dome was designed by the Shreveport architectural firm of Somdal-Smitherman-Sorensen-Sherman and Associates. Whitaker Construction Company of Shreveport was the contractor and the Temcor Company of California erected the gold-colored dome.

Centenary's fan support has played a big part in helping the Gents post a 53-1 record when scoring at least 100 points at the Gold Dome ... The only loss was to North Texas (107-104 in OT) February 23, 1977.

Trans America Athletic Conference

History

In the ever-changing environment of collegiate athletics, the Trans America Athletic Conference (TAAC) continues to balance academics and athletic excellence while blending a unique style of tradition and growth. The TAAC, founded September 19, 1978, stands firmly upon its purpose as stated in its constitution and bylaws, "...to assist its member institutions in the maintenance of programs of intercollegiate athletics which are compatible with the highest standards of education and competitive sports."

Academic & Athletic Excellence

The TAAC again enjoyed success in the classroom and on the playing fields as a record number 960 student-athletes earned all-academic honors in 1997-98, surpassing the previous mark of 908 set in 1996-97. The University of Central Florida took home the TAAC's All-Academic Championship Trophy in 1997-98 as 52.6 percent of its student-athletes earned conference all-academic honors. Georgia State University earned the prestigious conference honor of winning both the TAAC Men's and Women's All-Sports Championships in 1997-98. The Georgia State Men's Teams captured Conference titles in cross country (3rd straight year), soccer, golf, and tennis, while the GSU Women's Teams won the TAAC Soccer Championship and posted runner-up finishes in cross country, volleyball, basketball, golf, tennis, and softball.

Other championship highlights include the University of Central Florida winning the TAAC Volleyball title for the sixth straight season while Campbell University advanced to its second consecutive NCAA Women's Golf Regional after winning the TAAC Golf Championship for the third straight season. Florida Atlantic won its second consecutive TAAC Softball Championship in 1998 and UCF also claimed the TAAC Women's Tennis Championship for the second consecutive season.

Growth

The TAAC welcomes Jacksonville University (Jacksonville, FL) as a full member in 1998-99 as the Dolphins were associate members in men's and women's soccer in 1997-98. With some of the finest private schools and fastest growing state schools in the Southeast, the TAAC will have more than 2,000 student-athletes competing in conference play in 1998-99.

This year, the TAAC has reformatted for basketball, eliminating the East and West divisions. All teams will fall under one division and compete for the top eight spots in order to advance to the TAAC Tournament.

With its academic achievements and athletic success, the TAAC has become one of the top all-around collegiate athletic conferences in the country. In its 21st year of operation, the TAAC continues to strive towards providing its member institutions the best arena for academic and athletic success.

Billy Kennedy

Head Coach

Billy Kennedy enters his second year at the helm for the Centenary College Gentlemen basketball team after a 10-20 finish in his inaugural season. Although Kennedy is in just his second year of collegiate head coaching, he has 13 years of experience as an assistant coach at six Division I schools and an established record as one of the top young coaches in college basketball.

A Metairie, Louisiana native, Kennedy came to Centenary from the University of California at Berkeley where he spent four years as an assistant, serving as the associate head coach for two of those.

Kennedy, 34, began his coaching career while still attending Southeastern Louisiana during the 1985-86 season. After graduating in 1986 with a degree in social studies, he was a volunteer assistant at the University of New Orleans. That year, the Privateers lost to Alabama in the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

For the 1987-88 season, Kennedy followed Benny Dees west to the University of Wyoming to become a graduate assistant for the Cowboys. That team won the Western Athletic Conference title, earning a berth in the NCAA Tournament.

Kennedy's first full-time basketball job came a year later as an assistant at Northwestern State. That year the Demons, led by coach Dan Bell, defeated Kentucky 85-82 in Rupp Arena.

The following year, he moved on to Tulane to be an assistant under coach Perry Clark, helping build that program from the ground level through highly acclaimed recruiting efforts.

A year later, he was hired as an assistant at Texas A&M for the 1990-91 season. He also served as an advance scout for the NBA San Antonio Spurs during that time. After that, he spent two years as an assistant at Creighton in Omaha, Nebraska before moving on to the University of California to become an assistant under Todd Bozeman.

He came to Centenary from a Cal program that finished 23-9 in his final season and advanced to the Sweet Sixteen in the NCAA Tournament, losing to eventual Final Four participant North Carolina. The Golden Bears, under the direction of head coach Ben Braun, finished 12-6 in the PAC-10 including wins over 15th-ranked Stanford and eventual national champion, Arizona.

In Kennedy's four years at Cal, the Bears advanced to the NCAA Tournament three times: 1993-94, 1995-96, and 1996-97. His ability to recruit top-notch talent is a crucial reason why he has found success everywhere he has been. Included among the players he has recruited and worked with are NBA stars Jason Kidd of the Phoenix Suns and Lemond Murray of the Los Angeles Clippers.

At Cal, Kennedy helped recruit three Top 10 classes. The 1995 class featured Shareef Abdur-Rahim of the Vancouver Grizzlies and Ed Gray of the Atlanta Hawks and was rated number one by several publications.

"One of the reasons I chose Cal was that I believed coach Kennedy cared about me as a person and not just as a player," Abdur-Rahim said.

Despite his experiences with recruiting extremely talented basketball players, Kennedy stresses the difference between building a team and building a program. One is a quick fix and one is a long-term commitment to winning.

"We want solid kids who are going to contribute athletically and academically to the college for four years. It is tough enough to recruit these days without having to replace players every other year," Kennedy said.

That no nonsense style is evident in his coaching philosophy as well.

"I hope to build a program that is recognized for its tough fundamental, man-to-man defense. I also believe in pushing the basketball up the floor and scoring in transition," Kennedy said. "We hope to have better overall post play this season."

Kennedy has high expectations for his program off the court as well. Last season, the Gents had a team grade point average above 3.0 and last season's seniors, Herbert Lang and Reggie Love are both scheduled to graduate on time in December.

He has been a strong advocate of a the Academic Support Office created at Centenary for its student-athletes and has set a goal of a 100 percent graduation rate for his players.

Kennedy believes that the relationship that he develops with his players is the key to success in all of these areas.

"We have to recruit players who are not only talented, but also guys with character. You must be a leader, first leading yourself, and then leading by your example. I want my players to exemplify Christ-like character."

Several prominent people in college basketball have voiced their support of coach Kennedy.

LSU athletic director Joe Dean, Craig Thompson, commissioner of the Sun Belt Conference and Wimp Sanderson, the head coach at Arkansas-Little Rock all placed phone calls to Centenary director of athletics, Russ Sharp to express their admiration of Kennedy last year when he was hired.

When he accepted the job at Centenary, Kennedy, returned to Louisiana where he was a prep star at Holy Cross High School in New Orleans.

In 1982, Kennedy attended Delgado Community College where he played one year of basketball before concentrating on academic and coaching pursuits.

Kennedy is married to the former Mary Ethredge of Junction City, Arkansas and has three children: Will (10), Alexandra (8), and Brooks (3).

Kennedy's Coaching Philosophy:

"It all starts with getting players. Good players make good coaches. It is important for us to recruit guys that fit in here at Centenary, with the character and academic ability to graduate with a degree.

In developing a basketball program it is so important to have a system you believe in and stick with it. My whole philosophy stems from my experience playing for my stepfather, Kevin Trower, at Holy Cross High School. He taught us the Hank Iba style of defense. We are going to be fundamentally sound defensively. We will play man-to-man and limit transition buckets, forcing our opponents to beat us from the perimeter.

Offensively, I believe in running a fast break into a set offense. It is important to get easy baskets over the course of the game and not have to play against a set defense every trip down the floor.

A successful basketball team wins games, teaches young men about trust, and creates a family atmosphere which the student body, community and alumni can be a part."

Praise for Billy Kennedy

Coach Kennedy brings a wealth of experience to Centenary. He has been well prepared to handle the challenges of his first collegiate head coaching position. I have always been impressed with his personal demeanor on and off the court, the relationship with his players and knowledge of the game. He was instrumental in our success here at Cal and I consider him not only a coaching colleague but also a close personal friend."

~ Ben Braun
Head Basketball Coach
University of California

"Billy has paid his dues. He has always been a workaholic. Having worked under Benny Dees and Ben Braun, he has learned from proven winners. His teams will win, too."

~Tim Floyd
Director of Basketball Operations
Chicago Bulls

"Billy is well known in the basketball coaching world as one of the finest young coaches in the country. He is very well prepared for the position at Centenary. He has been associated with winners and winning programs wherever he has been and I'm sure he will bring the same to Centenary."

Assistant Coaches

Kevin Johnson
Assistant Coach

Kevin Johnson enters his second year with the Centenary Gentlemen's coaching staff after a successful career as a player and a coach. Johnson is the main recruiter for the Gents, both on and off campus, and runs the strength and conditioning program. His on-the-floor coaching is focused on the guards, and he monitors the academic progress of the players.

"Kevin will be an outstanding head coach someday. His work ethic in recruiting makes him him one of the best recruiters in this part of the country," Kennedy says of Johnson.

Johnson came to Centenary after serving as an assistant coach at the University of Texas-Texas-Pan American for one year. Johnson attended UT-Pan American where he starred for four seasons as the Broncos' starting shooting guard, finishing 11th on their all-time scoring list.

In his sophomore season, the Broncos finished 20-8 under the direction of Lon Kruger, now now the head coach at the University of Illinois. In his senior season, Johnson led the team in scoring with a 16.1 average, as well as field-goal percentage (.492), three point percentage (.574), and free-throw percentage (.793).

Johnson also led the American South conference in three-point field goal percentage that year, finishing seventh in the nation, and was named to the All-American South Conference first team.

After receiving his degree in marketing from UT-Pan American in 1988, Johnson headed overseas to play for the Leicester Riders in Leicester, England. After a year in Leicester, Johnson returned home, serving as an assistant coach at Northwestern State with Kennedy during the 1989-90 season.

In 1990, Johnson headed back to England to become the player and head coach of the Oldham Celtics. He led the Carlsburg league in scoring with a 33 points per game in 1991 and led the Celtics to a league championship in 1992.

In 1993, Johnson received his teacher certification from Pan American before moving on to Bryan High School to serve as an assistant basketball coach. He remained there until he became an assistant at his alma mater for the 1996-97 season.

A native of Morgan City, Louisiana, Johnson was named Second team All-State in 1984 after averaging 26 points and 10 rebounds as a senior at Morgan City High School.

His brother, Dave Johnson, is a former All-American at Syracuse University and first round pick of the Portland Trailblazers in 1992. After three years in the National Basketball Association, he now plays pro ball in Europe.

Johnson is married to the former Roishene Williams of San Angelo, Texas.

Scott Stapler is in his second year as an assistant basketball coach for the Centenary College Gentlemen. He came to Centenary from the University of Alabama-Huntsville where he worked for Bill Peterson as a graduate assistant coach. While at Alabama-Huntsville his duties included off-campus recruiting, on-the-floor coaching, working with the post players, opponent scouting, strength and conditioning coaching, and directing Alabama-Huntsville's summer basketball camps. Stapler also created Charger Notes, Alabama-Huntsville's basketball newsletter.

"Scott has done a great job working with our post players," says Kennedy of Stapler. "His ability to teach the fundamentals of the game will improve our program and our basketball team."

Stapler's responsibilities for the Gents include off-campus recruiting, on-the-floor coaching, working with the post players, and opponent scouting. During the summer, Scott is the director of the Billy Kennedy Basketball Camp.

This spring, Scott earned his master in education from Alabama A & M University in Normal, Alabama, and is currently teaching in the physical education department at Centenary.

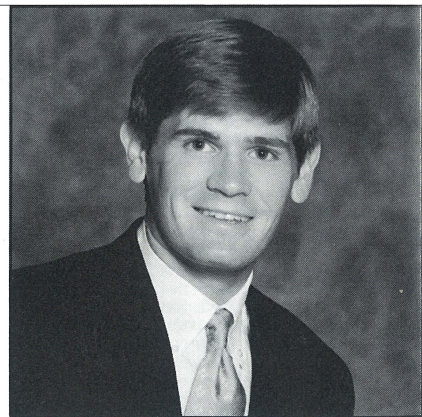

Stapler, who earned his bachelor's degree in Health and Physical Education from Auburn University, served as a student assistant coach with the Tigers under Cliff Ellis from 1994-96.

Stapler began his basketball career as a player for his father, Ronnie Stapler, at Grissom High School. The father and son tandem helped lead Grissom to a state championship in Scott's sophomore year and a state final four appearance in his senior year. During the tournament appearance his senior year, he set an Alabama Class 6A record for 3-point field goals in a state tournament game with six.

Coincidentally, Ronnie Stapler was a member of the Gents' 1967 basketball team under Centenary Hall of Fame coach Orvis Sigler.

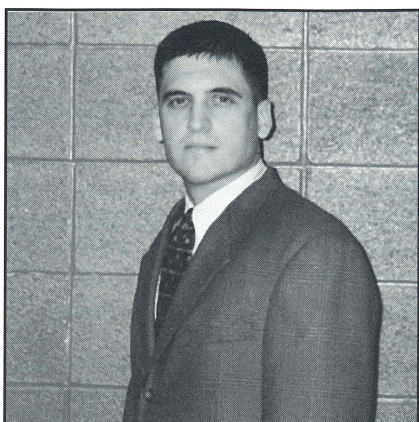

The Huntsville, Alabama native also played for legendary junior college coach, Glen Clem, at Walker College in Jasper, Alabama during the 1990-91 season, and Dan Bell at Northwestern State University in Natchitoches, Louisiana during the 1991-92 season. Stapler was a member of the Demon team that defeated the Gents 112-77 on January 9, 1992.

Scott is the son of Ronnie and Nancy Stapler and has a younger sister, Christy, who is in her senior year at Auburn.

Assistant Coaches

Steve Prohm
Assistant Coach

Steve Prohm is in his first year as an assistant coach for the Gents. His responsibilities with the Gents include on-the-floor coaching, assisting with individual workouts, on-campus recruiting, opponent scouting, and film exchange. Prohm is also in charge of the team's fund-raising, has created the new Junior Gents Club for 8-15 year-old fans and is involving the players, and the team as a whole, with local schools and the community.

Says Kennedy of Prohm, "Steve's an excellent addition to our program. His enthusiasm and his experience at the University of Alabama bring something new to our program."

Prohm, who received a degree in physical education and health from Alabama, comes to Centenary after working as a student-assistant for the Tide for the last five years. In that span, the Tide made two NCAA appearances in 1993-94 and 1994-95. In addition, Prohm has worked with former Tide and current NBA players Roy Rogers, Antonio McDyess, Eric Washington, and Jason Caffey.

Prohm has spent his past summers working with summer basketball camps at Wake Forest, Illinois, Seton Hall, Florida, Ohio State, and many others.

Steve is also active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) as one of its faculty/staff advisors.

At Northwest Whitfield High School in Dalton, Georgia, Prohm set a single season record for 3-point field goals while helping the Bruins to a Region 7AAA tournament championship in 1991, and a regular season championship in 1992. On top of his athletic accomplishments, Steve finished among the top 10 in his graduating class.

Steve is the son of Ron and Kathy Prohm (Charlotte, NC) and has an older brother, Bryan.

Josh Stoner begins his fifth season with the Gents basketball program and his second year as a student assistant.

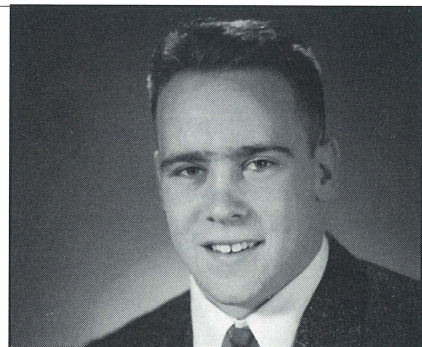

He spent his first three years with the Gents serving as the team manager. Stoner, a native of Denton, Texas, is a 1994 graduate of Denton High School.

"I'm glad to have Josh around for another year. His knowledge of Centenary and the program have been a big help to me. He's been around longer than anybody," said Kennedy.

While in high school, Stoner earned two letters in both football and track. He also played baseball for one season.

Stoner's primary duties include daily preparations for practice, filming practice sessions, film exchange, keeping statistics for the coaching staff and various other administrative duties. He also assists with the Gents' strength program.

The 23-year old Stoner is an Applied Science/ Pre-Physical Therapy major at Centenary and is also a member of Theta Chi Fraternity.

Taking the Next Step

Centenary Backcourt Returns in Hopes of Leading Gents to TAAC Title

The Centenary basketball team enters the 1998-99 season with plans to begin the campaign the way it finished a year ago. After a slow start to the season, the Gents won eight of their final 13 games to finish Billy Kennedy's first year as head coach 10-20.

Centenary dropped its first four Trans America Athletic Conference games in 1997-98, before rebounding to win eight of 12 in the TAAC to finish third in the Western Division and qualify for the conference tournament as the seventh seed.

Unfortunately, the Gents suffered a 101-74 first round loss to the same Florida International team they had battled in a 79-71 defeat the week prior.

The Gents boast one of the best backcourts in the conference with senior Tim Law (5-10, 170, York, AL) and sophomore Ronnie McCollum (6-4, 185, Fayette, AL) returning. The duo, along with six newcomers being counted on to contribute immediately, has Centenary with its sights on moving up in the conference standings and ultimately winning the TAAC Tournament.

"Our goal is to win more games than last year," Kennedy said. "In doing that, we want to have a winning record in the TAAC."

BACKCOURT

Law, one of the premiere point-guards in the conference, averaged 11.5 points and 4.6 assists per game in 1997-98 and will be called upon to be the Gents' playmaker this season.

Those around Centenary basketball know the key to the Gents' success rests on Law's shoulders.

"Tim's work ethic and leadership skills will be a big part of how far we go this season," Kennedy said. "He is one of the best defensive point guards I've ever coached."

McCollum, The Sporting News and Street and Smith's TAAC Preseason Player-of-the-Year and preseason first team all-conference selection by TSN and Athlon, will be the focus of many defenses the Gents face this season.

He was sensational as a freshman last season setting a school and conference record with 101 three-point field goals. His total was also the fourth highest by a freshman in NCAA history.

"Ronnie comes into the year in much better shape because he's ready for the challenge of being every opponent's target defensively," Kennedy said.

With Herbert Lang and his 16.3 points per game gone, McCollum may be asked to provide even more offense this season.

"One of our goals is to get him (McCollum) easy baskets in transition," Kennedy said.

RETURNEES

Rebounding will be an integral part of Centenary's success as the Gents look to improve on last year's win total.

Centenary was 1-13 last season when it was outrebounded. Lang and Reggie Love (also gone) averaged 14 rebounds per outing during their senior seasons and leave big shoes to fill.

Senior forward Cornell Hardman (6-7, 215, Owasso, OK) will be asked to step in and become the Gents' leader on the boards.

He is the logical choice for the job considering his 5.4 rebounds per game are tops among Centenary returnees.

"He (Hardman) has the ability to rebound and will be a key to us increasing our rebounds," Kennedy said.

Hardman is one of only two seniors on this year's squad (Law is the other) and will be asked to provide leadership for the Gents.

"Cornell's enthusiastic leadership and understanding of the game have made us better today than last year," Kennedy said.

Another important piece of the Gents' puzzle this season will be sophomore forward Lloyd Cook (6-6, 185, San Jose, CA) who began last season as a starter and hopes to return to that role this year. Cook's productivity should increase with more playing time.

"Lloyd made the biggest strides in gaining strength in the off-season," Kennedy said. "This will allow him to be more effective at the small forward position."

Centenary's other two returnees, junior forward Thomas Foster (6-0, 180, Natchitoches) and sophomore forward Darien Burton (6-7, 200, The Woodlands,

Law, one of the premiere point-guards in the conference, averaged 11.5 points and 4.6 assists per game in 1997-98 and will be called upon to be the Gents' playmaker this season.

TX) both came off the bench a year ago and likely will find themselves in the same role this season.

Foster's playing time is likely to be the greater of the two because the Gents are not deep at the guard position and he connected on 28 percent of his attempts from beyond the arc last season.

"Thomas' ability to hit the three-pointer makes us a better perimeter team," Kennedy said.

Burton playing time should increase if he has more performances like the one he turned in at Central Florida, January 12 when he pulled down a team-high seven rebounds.

NEWCOMERS

Kennedy had a successful track record as a recruiter before arriving in Shreveport and his first class at Centenary produced one of the premier players in the conference in McCollum.

This season, he brought in a half dozen newcomers, some of whom will have the opportunity to start immediately.

At the top of the list is Ed Dotson (6-7, 200, Detroit, MI), a highly sought after freshman forward out of Cooley High School, who Dick Vitale selected as the TAAC's Diaper Dandy.

Dotson has already made an impression on Kennedy during fall practice.

"If he continues to get stronger, I expect him to be one of our best offensive post players," Kennedy said. "He's a great athlete who can block shots and finish strong in the paint offensively."

Dotson, along with junior transfer Srdjan Lalic, (6-8, 240, Belgrade, Yugoslavia) bring much needed size to Centenary.

Lalic, who is taller than everyone on the Gents' roster last year, averaged 8.1 points and 6.1 rebounds last season at Pratt Community College in Kansas and a duplication of those numbers would be a welcome sight in Shreveport.

"His size and strength should make him a force in the paint," Kennedy said. "He has a knack for rebounding that will definitely improve us."

Another point of emphasis for Centenary this season will be finding someone to give Law much needed rest. Last season, Law averaged nearly 37 minutes a night and that number will have to decrease this season.

The Gents will ask freshman Warren

McCollum, The Sporting News TAAC Preseason Player-of-the-Year and preseason first team all-conference selection by TSN and Athlon, will be the focus of many defenses the Gents face this season.

The Outlook

"Thomas' ability to hit the three-pointer makes us a better perimeter team," Kennedy said.

Harris (6-0, 160, Priestwood, TX) out of Clear Brook High School to back up Law.

"We expect (Warren) to relieve Tim at the point and he can also play the two," Kennedy said. "His ability to get into the paint and make plays will allow Tim to rest."

Another player who brings size to Centenary is freshman Brien Rabenhorst (6-9, 230, Baton Rouge) from Catholic High School.

Rabenhorst is a player who brings intelligence and good decision making to the floor.

"Brien comes from a great high school program," Kennedy said. "His work ethic and knowledge of the game has made him unlike most freshman."

There is no bigger example of the Gents' increased size this season than junior Ben Horn (Atlanta, GA).

Horn, who transferred from Meridian Junior College in Mississippi, stands at 6-11 and weighs 255 pounds.

"We are counting on Ben to help us with our tough pre (conference) schedule," Kennedy said. "His size and experience will give us an opportunity to win on the road against bigger teams."

Rounding out the Gents' recruiting class is freshman forward Delrick Brown (6-5, 215, Pearland, TX) out of Pearland

High School.

"Delrick is a good all-around player who will compete for playing time at the three spot," Kennedy said. "I expect he will be one of our best defensive perimeter players."

Centenary hopes its mix of returnees and newcomers will be the right recipe for ascending to the top of the Trans America Athletic Conference ladder.

The Gents have not been above the .500 mark in the conference since the 1993-94 campaign.

That was also the last time Centenary advanced beyond the first round of the conference tournament, something that Kennedy hopes will change this year.

A difficult non-conference schedule will go a long way in preparing the Gents in their effort to obtain a TAAC title.

SCHEDULE

The 1998-99 schedule will provide a homecoming of sorts for Kennedy.

The Gents play at former Trans America Athletic Conference rival Southeastern Louisiana December 2.

The Lions won 85-74 in the Gents' home opener last season, November 19, and Centenary will be looking to avenge the loss to Kennedy's alma mater when the teams meet in Hammond.

Kennedy spent the 1986-87 season, his first after graduating from SLU, as a volunteer assistant at the University of New Orleans.

The Gents and Privateers will play at UNO, December 12.

The 1988-89 campaign found Kennedy in nearby Natchitoches as an assistant at Northwestern State.

The Gents defeated the Demons 69-58 on the road, December 8 last year to give Kennedy his first career victory.

The schools meet again, December 5 in Shreveport. It will be one of only two home games during the non-conference schedule for the Gents.

The other home contest in 1998 is the season-opener against defending Southland Conference champion Nicholls State, November 14.

The Gents travel to College Station, TX, November 23 to play Texas A & M, a school where Kennedy was an assistant during the 1990-91 season.

The Aggies are opening a new facility in College Station and are coached by Melvin Watkins who Kennedy calls, "one of the hottest young coaches in the country."

The Kennedy reunion tour also makes a stop in Omaha, NE for a game at Creighton, November 29.

Kennedy was an assistant for the Blue Jays in both 1991-92 and 1992-93.

Creighton participated in the National Invitational Tournament last season and is the preseason pick to win the Missouri Valley Conference by several publications.

"It's exciting to go back to some of the universities that I worked at," Kennedy said. "I met a lot of special people that helped me get to this position at Centenary."

The schedule also includes road games at Mississippi State, December 8, the same place Kennedy made his head coaching debut, and a trip to Columbia, MO for a December 30 game against the Norm Stewart coached Missouri Tigers.

Stewart, a member of the 700-win club, has a talented team led by Albert White, a transfer from Michigan who could be a first round pick in next year's National Basketball Association Draft.

Centenary will also play Richmond, who advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament last season after upsetting South Carolina, in the TCBY Tournament hosted by Arkansas-Little Rock, December 18.

There is also a possible match-up against former Trans America Conference rival Arkansas-Little Rock in the TCBY Tournament, December 19.

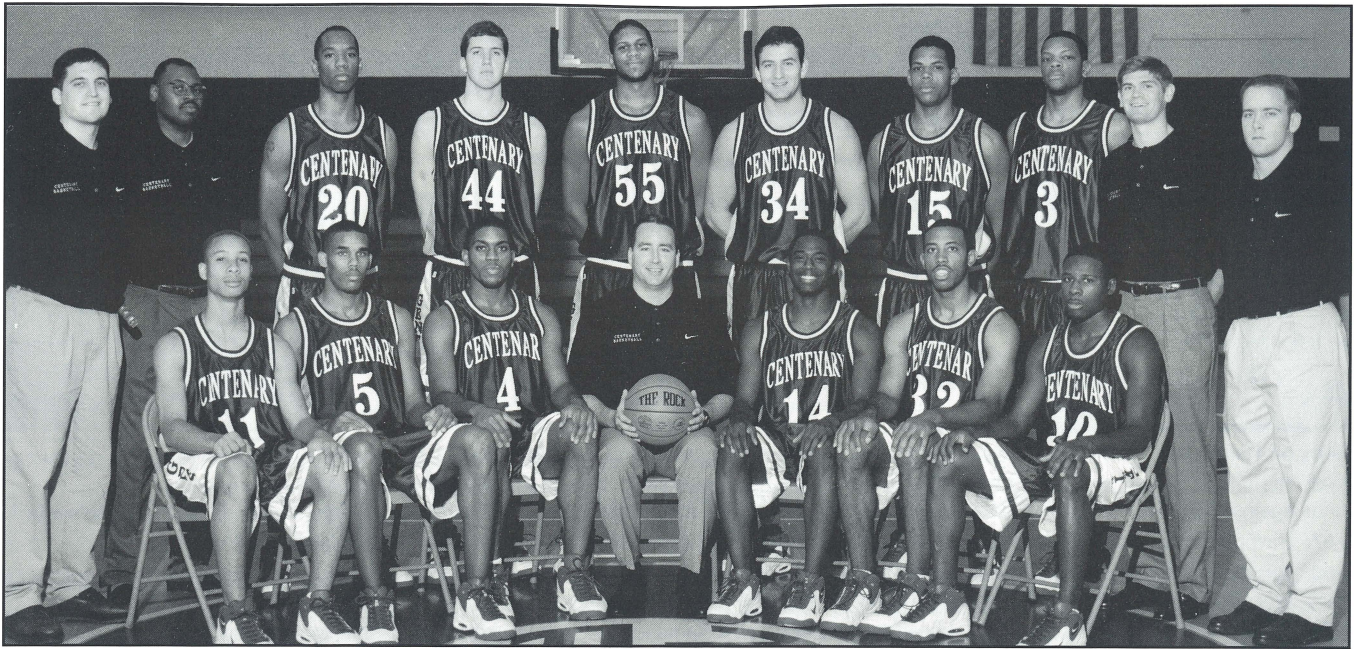

The Trojans and Gents met eight times in the TAAC Tournament from 1982-1991 and it was UALR who denied Centenary a NCAA Tournament berth in the TAAC title game in 1986, 1989 and 1990.

The conference season begins at TAAC newcomer Jacksonville, January 2.

The Dolphins will also be the opponent for the Gents' conference home opener, January 9. The TAAC schedule concludes at Samford, February 20.

The 1999 TAAC Tournament will be hosted by Jacksonville, February 25-27.

1997-98 Notebook

Kennedy Takes Over The Reins

On March 17, 1997, Billy Kennedy became the 16th head coach in Centenary's 76 years of collegiate basketball. Kennedy inherited a team which had gone 9-18 during the 1996-97 campaign, with just two of those wins coming on the road. Coach Kennedy brought in several new recruits including starters Tim Law and Ronnie McCollum, and toughened the Gents' schedule with games against LSU, Long Island, and Arkansas. Kennedy brought in a new coaching staff and a new coaching philosophy to Centenary and led the Gents to a 10-20 finish, while laying the ground work for an exciting 1998-99 season.

Lang Ends Career With a Slam

After a stellar career at Centenary in which he ranked 14th all-time in scoring (1,249), 20th all-time in rebounding (550), and sixth all-time in steals (156), Herbert Lang finished his collegiate career in style. Lang walked away from the 1998 Final Four as the Slam Dunk Champion after defeating Cincinnati's Ruben Patterson in the finals. The contest was broadcast on ESPN and hosted by Dick Vitale. In his final season with the Gents, Lang scored 20 or more points in ten games and recorded ten double-doubles including a 25 point, 13 rebound performance in an opening round loss to Florida International in the TAAC Tournament.

McCollum Sets Centenary and TAAC Records

Freshman sensation Ronnie McCollum finished his rookie campaign with 101 three-point field goals, setting a new Centenary and Trans America Athletic Conference single season record, and placing fourth in NCAA history for three-point field goals by a freshman. His accomplishment ranks eighth all-time in the Gents' record books in three point field goals, and with 3.4 three-point field goals a game, he finished eighth in the NCAA. Ronnie was voted to both the TAAC's All-Newcomer and All-Second Teams.

No other freshman placed in any of the TAAC's top three teams. He was also named to the All-Louisiana Third Team.

Law Transfers Well

Junior transfer Tim Law stepped right into his role as point guard for the Gents. His strong averages of 11.5 points per game and 4.6 assists per game improved in conference play to 12.4 and 5.0 respectively. He led the Gents in steals as well with 64. Law came to Centenary from Shelton State Community College where he set the school's all-time assist record.

Razorbacks Narrowly Escape Gents

Centenary visited the University of Arkansas December 18 and almost walked away with an early Christmas present. The Razorbacks came into the game ranked 13th in the AP poll at 7-0, while Centenary had posted just one win in ten attempts. However, a stingy Centenary defense held Arkansas to just 19 points in the first half, and the Gents went into the break with a 23-19 lead. The two teams traded leads in the second, but the Razorbacks closed with a 28-8 run to escape the upset by a final score of 61-48. Reggie Love pulled down a game high 13 rebounds and Ronnie McCollum lead the Gents in scoring with 16.

Northwestern Ties Only So Strong

Northwestern State gave Billy Kennedy his first full time coaching job. Assistant coach Kevin Johnson served with Kennedy as an assistant at Northwestern. Assistant coach Scott Stapler played for Northwestern. The trio repaid the school by taking the Gents into Prather Coliseum and leading Centenary to a 69-58 win for Kennedy's first win as a head coach. Tim Law scored 20 points in the winning effort.

Gents Sweep Mercer, Troy State

For the first time in two years, the Gents swept two TAAC teams in a season. They defeated Mercer 82-59 at home for their third win of the season, then ventured into Macon to defeat the Bears 77-64. Ronnie McCollum scored a combined 51 points in the wins. Against Troy State, Centenary took a 89-82 win out of Sartain Hall, before shutting down Troy 80-70 at the Gold Dome. The last time the Gents swept two TAAC teams was during the 1994-95 season when they took two from Florida International and Campbell.

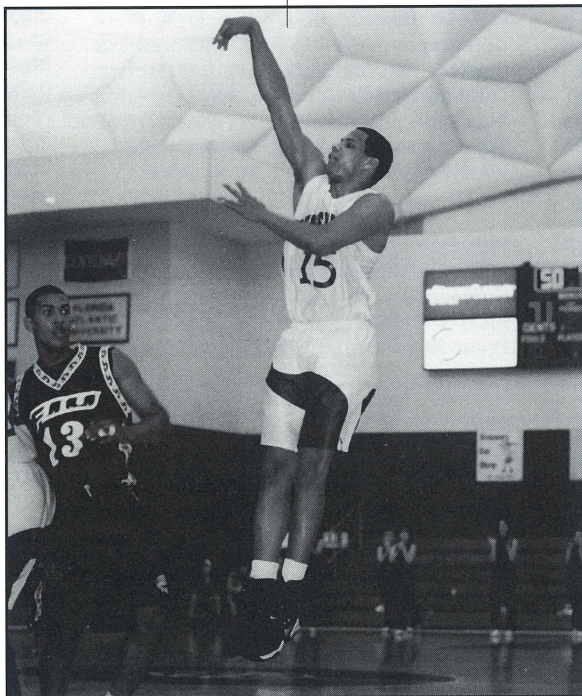

Kennedy's Classroom

Billy Kennedy stated when he came to Centenary that he wanted players that could compete academically as well as athletically. He backed his statement by not only adding a win to the Gents previous year's performance, but by leading his student-athletes to academic honors as well. This past season, the Gents had five players receive All-Academic honors from the Trans America Athletic Conference. Darien Burton, Thomas Foster,

Cornell Hardman, Herbert Lang, and Tim Law all completed the fall semester with a 3.0 grade point average or better. The Centenary men's basketball posted a 3.01 cumulative team grade point average in the spring semester, and seniors Herbert Lang and Reggie Love are scheduled to graduate this fall.

Cornell Comes Into His Own

Junior Cornell Hardman had a breakout year for the Gents. He stepped into a starting role, and in one season, surpassed his career totals in every major category. He averaged 7.5 points per game and had that average improve in conference play to 8.8. He showed a soft touch for a big man, hitting 42 percent of his shots from beyond the arc, and his 15 three point field goals in conference play placed second on the team only to Ronnie McCollum.

Hardman showed a soft touch for a big man, hitting 42 percent of his shots from beyond the arc.

Media Information

Welcome

The 1998-99 Centenary Gentlemen's Basketball Media Guide is designed to assist the media with their coverage of Gents' basketball this season. Additional information, including media releases and photographs may be obtained by contacting the Sports Information Office (located on the lower level of the Gold Dome) at (318) 869-5092, (318) 869-5145 (fax), or write to: P.O. Box 41188-Gold Dome, Shreveport, LA 71134-1188.

Media Credentials

Media credentials and photography passes are for admittance to the Gold Dome, the media room, and the courtside press tables. These passes are limited to working press only.

For those covering the Gents on a regular basis, it is necessary to request a season pass on company letter-head. For those needing passes for specific games and not the entire season, requests must be made no sooner than one week in advance of that game and no later than one day prior to the game. Credentials will NOT be granted on game day. A reminder, media seating on press row is limited so make sure you request a pass on a timely basis.

Requests for season passes and game passes should be directed to sports information director Craig Lawson.

Season passes will NOT be mailed, but will be made available in the Sports Information Office and can be picked up beginning November 13, 1998.

Credentials that are not picked up will be available prior to tip-off at the Will Call window, located at the North entrance to the Gold Dome.

Please keep your press credential securely fastened and visible at all times to allow for identification by security and game management personnel.

Game Day Services

The press room is located on the lower level of the Gold Dome, adjacent to the Sports Information Department, and serves three purposes. It is a WORKING press area, an interview room and a hospitality area.

PLEASE be respectful to those members of the media who are trying to work. For those writers wishing to send stories from the Gold Dome, there are several phone lines available on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Those wishing to broadcast from the Gold Dome should make requests through the Sports Information Department. One courtesy line will be made available at no charge to the official station of the visiting team. Visiting radio line number is (318) 869-5400; trouble line number is (318) 869-5298.

Game Information

Game information is provided by the Centenary Sports Information Department and includes a game program, fact sheets, media guides and statistics for each team. Halftime statistics and play-by-play sheets are delivered to the working press area. Flash stats are brought immediately to broadcast outlets following timeouts. Complete game booklets are assembled and made available in the working press room.

The Gents' locker room is closed to the media. ALL interviews will take place in the press room, no exceptions will be made. Player interviews must be arranged through Centenary SID Craig Lawson. Visiting player interviews must be arranged with the visiting SID.

Coach Billy Kennedy will be available for interviews directly following the game for a period of five minutes. A member of the Centenary SID staff will coordinate interview sessions. Due to travel, the visiting team members will be brought to the interview room first, then Centenary players will follow.

Interviews

Players and coaches are generally available for interviews daily, except for game days. Please request all interviews with a minimum of 24 hours notice through the Sports Information Office. Phone interviews with Centenary players will be conducted on a call-back basis only, usually immediately before practice sessions.

Interviews with Gents' head coach Billy Kennedy and his staff can be arranged during workday hours Monday through Friday, by calling the Sports Information Office.

All practices, as a general rule, are closed to the media unless a request has been approved by coach Kennedy through the Sports Information Department.
